

AWAY FROM HOME

Don't panic- your Kellogg's team has what you need in case of an emergency and beyond!

Even in the event of emergency feeding, all meals served must meet certain requirements to receive reimbursement to ensure children continue to receive well-balanced, nutritious meals that meet the nutritional and energy needs of students. Our grab-and-go options make them the ideal choice to customize portable meals to distribute with minimal prep time.

Place your orders today as quantities are limited and available on a first come, first serve basis.

Here are some of the grain options we have available to meet the USDA guidelines for emergency feeding if administered through the summer meal program.
